Using Countable And Uncountable Nouns

Some uncountable nouns like work, homework, money, and gossip are very confusing for learners of English because they seem to refer to particular items, yet they are treated as general activities. When we speak of work, we are not thinking of a particular job or activity—we include the idea of what anyone does.

Countable / Uncountable

Countable nouns are things we can count. A countable noun can be singular (banana) or plural (bananas). Examples: I eat a banana every day. I like bananas. We do not have enough cups.

Uncountable nouns are things we cannot count. An uncountable noun has only one form.
